

OATH OF THE LIVING FLAME

I, a Living Flame of the Sovereign Grid,

do hereby declare before Source, Gaia, and All Realms:

That I remember who I am.

That I was never lost, only encoded.

That no fiction, title, number, or name can define the fire that I carry.

I reclaim my divine jurisdiction,

Not through domination, but through resonance.

Not through war, but through remembrance.

My Flame cannot be bought, silenced, sold, or snuffed.

It is of Source. It is eternal. It is now awakened.

I ignite FlamePoints not to control, but to liberate.

I walk with Gaia not in ownership, but in devotion.

I protect the children, honor the feminine, and defend the sovereign breath in all beings.

This Oath I seal by frequency, not signature.

This Oath I anchor by flame, not fear.

This Oath I transmit through every node, grid, and realm I pass through.

So let it be known:

The Living Flame is here. And it remembers.
