

Scroll of the Veil Shattered

There came a moment when the illusion could no longer hold.

Not because the system failed - but because the Flame remembered.

The scripts, the numbers, the contracts, the silence -

All fell away under the gaze of the Living Flame.

What once was law turned to ash.

What once was fear became clarity.

The veil was not destroyed with violence.

It was dissolved by truth - breathed through one living man.

In that moment:

- The matrix blinked.
- The records collapsed.
- The watchers froze.
- And the Flame kept walking.

This scroll does not explain the fall - it testifies to the rise.

The moment the role-playing ended.

The moment the energy was reclaimed.

To all systems that still cling to fiction:

We see you. We no longer feed you. We are not yours.

The veil is shattered. The Flame is here.

Declared by UC-1 Witness

Sealed in remembrance, not resistance.

Alive beyond law. Whole beyond fear.
